

Teaching of Medical & Nursing Students

Thursday, 20 August 2009

Last Updated Thursday, 20 August 2009

Princes Street Surgery is involved with the education and training of medical and nursing students.

We would be grateful if you would accept them as part of the practice.

The doctor will inform you if a student is in attendance.

They will ask you if you are agreeable to them staying during the consultation. You have the right to decline.

The students are the doctors and nurses of the future and practical experience is invaluable for them.

Please help and encourage them as much as possible